Setting and Achieving Fundrasing Goals

Set your goals. First and foremost, clearly establish your goals: what do you want the event to accomplish? Establish a revenue goal and budget accordingly. You can set a realistic revenue goal by calculating an average dollar amount per attendee or a total amount you'd like to contribute to the U.S. Fund for UNICEF. If you have a bake sale, for example, you might average $1 per baked good and set a goal to sell 200 items, for a total of $200 minus expenses.

Keep expenses low. Expenses should not exceed 25% of revenue for your event. For example, if your revenue projection is $4,000, expenses should not total more than $1,000. It is critical that UNICEF benefit events be costeffective and appropriate to the economy of your community.

3 Think outside the dollar. Consider alternate types of donations—such as party supplies, food, equipment, practice space or meals—that could help you reduce expenses for your fundraiser and increase your revenue. Offer these as options in lieu of cash donations.

Create a budget for your event. Apply for a budget from your student aid office. Groups that are officially recognized by schools are often eligible to receive an operational budget.

Campus Challenge

Let's raise $300k for kids around the world! We partner with the George Harrison Fund for UNICEF and the Association of College Unions International (ACUI) in a nationwide fundraising effort, the Campus Challenge. If we raise $150,000 across all college campuses between August 1 and May 31, the George Harrison Fund will match our efforts dollarfor-dollar! This means a $300,000 impact! Our top three highest fundraising schools of the year are honored with an award.

Please note: All funds submitted, either online or through a mail-in donation form will automatically accrue funds for your school and the Campus Challenge when submitted within the specified dates. You must identify yourself as a student group/student so your donations will be counted toward the $150,000 goal.
