

STEERING COMMITTEE MEMBER ROLE & DESCRIPTION (2-year term)

The United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) works in over 190 countries and territories to save children's lives, to defend their rights, and to help them fulfill their potential, from early childhood through adolescence. UNICEF has helped save more children's lives than any other humanitarian organization by providing health care and immunizations, safe water and sanitation, nutrition, education, emergency relief and more.

UNICEF NextGen supports UNICEF's work through fundraising, advocacy and education in the United States. Together, we are working toward the day when no children die from preventable causes, and every child has a safe and healthy childhood.

The NextGen Steering Committee is comprised of roughly 20 core leaders per city in Atlanta, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco and New York. A Steering Committee member identifies as a global citizen, is passionate about child rights and firmly believes in UNICEF's mission, which is grounded in principles of equity and uses a human-rights based approach.

Steering Committee members commit to raising and giving critical funds, resources and awareness for UNICEF – knowing this is the most impactful and effective way to support children globally. Steering Committee members will also create peer engagement opportunities and cultivate strong, lasting UNICEF partnerships. NextGeners think globally while acting locally to make the greatest impact for children around the globe.
