UNICEF: We Put Children First

For over 70 years, the United Nations Children’s Fund has been putting children first, protecting their rights and providing the assistance and services they need to survive and thrive. UNICEF has helped save more children’s lives than any other humanitarian organization in the world.

UNICEF was created in 1946 to provide lifesaving assistance to children who were devastated by World War II. UNICEF USA was the first National Committee created to support UNICEF’s activities; as UNICEF expanded its reach and the scope of its work over the last seven decades, UNICEF USA has been there, providing major fundraising and advocacy support for UNICEF’s global programs for children.

UNICEF has a presence in 190 countries and territories, carrying out programs, fundraising, and advocacy. UNICEF provides children with water, nutrition, health care, education, protection and emergency relief, using low-cost, high-impact, sustainable solutions. These efforts have helped slash child mortality rates by more than half since 1990 and save 122 million children’s lives.

At a time when one out of every four children in the world lives in a country or area affected by armed conflicts, UNICEF and partners work tirelessly to reach those in greatest need. In 2017, UNICEF responded to 337 humanitarian crises in 102 countries.

violence and conflict. The Syrian civil war is at the heart of this crisis. Since the conflict began in 2010, the number of child refugees worldwide has jumped by roughly 75 percent. These children are among the most vulnerable on earth.

UNICEF receives no funds from the United Nation’s member state dues and so relies on voluntary contributions. More than 88 cents of every dollar spent by UNICEF USA supports UNICEF’s work helping the world’s most vulnerable children and their families. ●
